Mission:

The World Association for Disaster and Emergency Medicine (WADEM) is an international, humanitarian association dedicated to the improvement of prehospital, emergency, and disaster health. Fostering international collaboration, WADEM strives to be inclusive, culturally unbiased, ethical and dynamic in its approach. While individual members are active in field operations, WADEM remains non-operational, fulfilling its mission through:

- Facilitation of academic and research-based education and training;
- Interpretation and exchange of information through its global network of members and publications;
- Development and maintenance of evidence-based standards of emergency and disaster health care and provision of leadership concerning their integration into practice;
- Coordination of data collection and provision of direction in the development of standardized disaster assessment and research and evaluation methodologies;
- Encouraging publication and presentation of evidence-based research findings in scientific publications and international conferences and congresses.

Affiliation Organizations:

WADEM has created a process for membership available exclusively to institutions and organizations who share an abiding interest and mission in advancing disaster and emergency health to its membership. WADEM created this “Affiliation” option to membership to help foster international collaboration and research with likeminded institutions and organizations.

In return for an annual membership from the parent Affiliate Organization, individual members of the Affiliate Organization receive a 20% discount off the WADEM annual membership and any WADEM-sponsored courses. Affiliate Organizations receive an organizational copy of Prehospital and Disaster Medicine, WADEM’s scientific journal. WADEM will list the Affiliate Organization on the WADEM website and link to the Affiliate Organization’s website. Similarly, WADEM will promote events the Affiliate Organization is hosting on its website and to the WADEM membership. Additionally, Affiliate Organizations are entitled to discounts on advertising in Prehospital and Disaster Medicine.
